Had they thought it worth while to have exercised their right of suffrage and discharged their duty as democrats and citizens, Worden would have been elected. In this county alone our majority might and ought to have been increased enough to have secured this result. Dekalb has done even worse than Allen, notwithstanding the boasted efforts of their big gun from which so much was promised. Noble has also disappointed us, and Whitley falls short of wha was expected. The opposition counties have no done worse than we looked for.

We give the returns from all the counties i the district. From Elkhart, Kosciusco, and Noble we have only rumors, which may not be exactly correct,—the others are official. Case's majori ty, it will be seen is not less than 800 and ma reach 850.

"Wall, I reckon you hain't got no old hen nor nuthin' you would lend me for a few "I will lend you one with pleasure," 'replied the neighbor, taking one of the finest out of the

The Yankee took the hen home, and went to another neighbor and borrowed a dozen of eggs.

He sat the hen on the eggs, and in due course of time she hatched out a dozen of chickens. The time she hatched out a dozen of chickens. The Yankee was again puzzled; he could return the hen but he could not return the eggs. Another idea—and who ever saw a Yankee without one idea and who ever saw a Yankee without one -come to his relief; he would keep the hen until she would lay the dozen of eggs. He then returned the hen and the eggs to their respective owners remarking as he did so:

"Wall. I guess I've got as fine a dozen of chickens as you ever laid your eyes on, and they didn't cost me a darn'd cent, nuther." Perhaps a thousand years hence, when all the world has changed its bearings, that old story of the hen and the eggs will be narrated in the great High cumfoozle Phalanx of Oregon, as "something which lately took place in this great High cumfoczle Phalanx of Oregon, as something which lately took place in this neighborhood." There—that's what you may call a young lady of sentiment! Some poetry in that soul-hey And she said there was.

Colonize the Girls.-Some of our exchanges are just at present very much exercised in solving the problem of where the Massachusetts girls are to get husbands. By the last census it appotrs that the excess of females over males is 33.056, caused partly by the tendency of the men to emigration and of the men to emigration, and of the girls to center in the State for the purpose of obtaining factory employment. Why does not some enterprising Vankee start a gigantic matrimonial agency on the Paris plan—a soirce of eligible young ladies lady champerons—with excursion trains full of young bachelors, to be run from those States where the tair sex are in the minority? Thus a major the "muslin" once a week, with polite and respectable old to young gentleman in Iowa, where the "muslin" is reputed to be as rare and expensive as any other kind of garment, could take out a ticket at commuted rates, and be put through to Paradise and Matrimony, via Boston and the matrimonial soirces, in the shortest possible space of time. Moreover, as these maidens of Massachusetts are reported to make uncommity notable notable wives, and to excel in fair complexions and lively dispositions, we should think that they would do remarkably well for the West. Some thing ought to be done beyond question; who will start the "Grand Surplus Marrying Massachusetts, Enterprise?"

Congressional Election

The democrats are badly beat in the Tenth | we had anticipated. Judge Brown, democrat, is Congressional District, and Churles Case, black elected Governor by '12 00 majority, and six republican, free soiler, abolitionist, or whatever democrats out of eight elected to Congress else he may be styled, is elected by even a larger majority than Mr Brenton was. The result does not change our opinion as to what the sentiment of the district is, if a full expression could be had. The vote this year is very light, whelming majority, and all the five Congressand a majority of those staying at home we firmly believe are at least in name democrats. left in the state for seed. Had they thought it worth while to have exer-. cised their right of suffrage and discharged their duty as democrats and citizens, Worden would have been elected. In this county alone our majority might and ought to have been increased enough to have secured this result. DeKalb has done even worse than Allen, notwithstanding the boasted efforts of their big gun from which so much was promised. Noble has also disappointed us, and Whitley falls short of what was expected. The opposition counties have not done worse than we looked for.

We give the returns from all the counties in the district. From Elkhart, Kosciusco, and Noble we have only rumors, which may not be exactly correct,—the others are official. Case's majority, it will be seen is not less than 800 and may reach 850. Allen, Worden. 768 Noble, Case. 461

"Wall, I reckon you hain't got no old hen nor nuthin' you would lend me for a few "I will lend you one with pleasure," 'replied the neighbor, taking one of the finest out of the

The Yankee took the hen home, and went to another neighbor and borrowed a dozen of eggs. He sat the hen on the eggs, and in due course of time she hatched out a dozen of chickens. The Yankee was again puzzled; he could return the hen but he could not return the eggs Another idea-and who ever saw a Yankee without one -come to his relief; he would keep the hen until she would lay the dozen of eggs. He then returned the hen and the eggs to their respective owners remarking as he did so:

"Wall, I guess I're got as fine a dozen of chickens as you ever laid your eyes on, and they didn't cost me a darn'd cent, nuther"

Perhaps a thousand years hence, when all the world has changed its bearings, that old story of the hen and the eggs will be narrated in the great High cumfocele Phalanx ot Oregon, as "something which lately took place in this neighborhood." Why, sometimes, when we look over Rabelais and Frischlinus, we begin to doubt if there's such a thing as a good new story extant.

2 SESSES A BEAUTIFUL OBECT.

 There is no object so beautiful to me as conscientous young man-I watch him as I do a star in Heaven."-Miss Caroline Gilman. -"That is my view-exactly!" sighed Miss Josephine Hoops, as she laid down the volume: "in fact, I think that there's nothing so beautiful as a young man, even if he aint conscientious Goodness knows that I watch the dear createres a great deal more than I do the stars in Heaven -and mean to as long as I live. Wonder if that's Charley Sass?" she suddenly exclaimed, as she heard a ringing at the door And casting a burried glance at the immense mirror, to see if her blashes were coming up correctly, she sunk Stock in fride, or other efficie, at Auction, can back amid a wilderness of silk skirts on the have their business attended to with punctuality and luxurious sofa, and with glistening eyes and wildly throbbing heart awaited the approach of her favorite admirer.

Colonize the Girls - Some of our exchanges are just at present very much exercised in solving the problem of where the Massachusetts girls are to get husbands By the last census it appears that the excess of females over males is 33,056, caused partly by the tendency of the men to emigration, and of the girls to center in the State for the purpose of obtaining factory employment. Why does not some enterprising Yankeo start a gigantic matrimonial agency on the Paris plan—a source of eligible young ladies once a week, with polite and respectable old lady champerons-with excursion trains full of o young bachelors, to be run from these States 6 where the fair sex are in the minority? Thus a young gentleman in Iowa, where the "muslin" is reputed to be as rare and expensive as any other kind of garment, could take out a ticket at commuted rates, and be put through to Paradise and Matrimony, via Boston and the matrimonial soirces, in the shortest possible space of WALL, MEYER, & CO., time. Moreover, as these madens of Massachusetts are reported to make uncommly notable notable wives, and to excel in fair complexions and lively dispositions, we should think that they would do remarkably well for the West. Some thing ought to be done beyond question; who will start the 'Grand Surplus Marrying Massachusette, Enterprise?"
